F. S. R. RELIEF SHIPMENTS
FROM AMERICAN WORKERS TO RUSSIAN WORKERS

Up to July 31, 1922, seventeen(17) ships, containing relief food, machinery and other supplies from American workers for Russian workers, have left New York, bound for Soviet Russia. The following is a report of the shipments made by the American Federated Russian Famine Relief Committee on these 17 vessels.

It must be noted that the Friends of Soviet Russia furnished nearly ninety-seven and one half percent(97½%) of the funds for the purchase and forwarding of these goods through the Federated Committee.

Besides the 17 shipments from New York, ten(10) shipments have been made separately by F. S. R. branches along the Pacific coast. These are listed below at the end, but, due to the shipping papers having been sent abroad for handling, details are not available at the moment of making up this report.

This report does not include relief material forwarded through the Federated Committee by various other organizations as distinct consignments in their own respective names.

The clothing and shoes were almost all obtained by house to house collection, so that the given value does not represent an expenditure by the Federated Committee. The articles were all put into first-class condition and repaid and the assigned value represents a very conservative estimate.

Shipments prefixed with an asterisk(*) have been listed as received in Soviet Russia in the official printed Bulletin issued under date of July 5, 1922 at Berlin, Germany, by the Central Office of the Workers International Russian Famine Relief Committee, with which the Friends of Soviet Russia is affiliated.
